ALL READY FOR RELAY CARNIVAL

Four Hundred of Nation's Best Amateurs Will Compete Tonight

URBANA, Ill., March 4.—More than 400 athletes from two scores of the leading institutions of the country completed final preparations today for the fifth annual Illinois relay carnival scheduled for tonight in the Illinois stadium.

A perusal of the lengthy lists reveals the names of leaders in every branch of track sports, world's record holders and Olympic stars.

University men will meet in eleven special events, the all-around championship and four relays; college teams will match skill in a similar program of events and prep schools will clash for the one mile interscholastic relay championship.

Leading contenders for honors in the headline events include Pennsylvania, Chicago, Michigan, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Ames, Wisconsin, Purdue, Northwestern, Iowa, Notre Dame, Ohio, Grinnell, Drake, Kansas Aggies and Illinois. In addition, 16 colleges and eight prep schools will participate.

Racing Rivalry Upsets Plans of Meet Promoters

BOSTON, March 4.—The racing rivalry of Joe Ray of the Illinois 42 and Hal Cutbill, "the flying parson" of the Boston A. A., has upset the plans of the promoters of the Knights of Columbus track meet here tonight. Because Ray has run in front of nearly every mile event in which he has competed this season, it was proposed to place him on scratch in a low class race and Cutbill in another first-class mile runner in a separate event.

"But the 'flying parson' objected," I want to run Ray," he said. "I will meet him at any distance, three quarters of a mile or the mile. If he goes to the mark to beat a record, I want to be there with him. True, he has beaten me, but I know he is also true that I have defeated him in the 1000 yards national championship. I am confident that I shall be there at the finish."

HARRISVILLE TRIMS CLINTON HOOPSTERS

Harrisville hoopsters trounced the Clinton five last night at Harrisville 38 to 29. It was one of the fastest games played this season on the Harrisville floor. Alma Harris, the winning team stood out for his remarkable play. He caged four field goals from the center of the floor.

The lineup: Harrisville (38) Clinton (29) Jensen, Mole, Guthrie, Bonham Taylor, Harris, Child, Harris, Funk, D. Parker.

SECOND SQUAD COMING

WASHINGTON, March 4.—A second squad of 19 players, including Manager Milan, will join the advance guard of the Washington club at Tampa, Fla., tomorrow to enter the spring training grind. One of these, Pitcher George Morgridge, sent his signed contract to President Griffith Friday after a delay due not to a difference over terms, but to an inclination to retire on the part of the player.

Zachary and Pleinich also are arriving at Tampa tomorrow and although neither has yet given notice of signing up, Griffith said he expected to receive this by wire before they reached camp. This leaves Joe Judge, the Nationals' star first baseman, as the only one of the fold who has not come to terms. Judge is due to join the squad with the last group a week from tomorrow.

GRIFITH DEFEATED

DAVENPORT, Iowa, March 4.—Fighting before 4,000 fans here Friday night, Morris Schaffler, Omaha welterweight, won a decisive victory over the veteran, Johnny Griffith of Akron in the 10-round main bout of a show put on by the local American legion post.

CLASSICS OF the DIAMOND

Chief Bender, famous for years as a big league pitcher, is to manage an International league club the coming season.

Bender is one of the best shots in the country. During the winter he puts in his time representing one of the biggest firearm concerns in the country.

Eddie Collins, now of the Chicago White Sox, but who for years was a teammate of Bender on the Athletics, is responsible for the following story with Bender as the central figure.

Bender is strong for duck hunting. The story goes that he and several other players went on a duck hunt after the close of the season.

What chance has Babe Ruth to break his home run record in 1922?

That question has been asked me a number of times during the past month as the athletes get ready to swing into action.

To be perfectly frank, I don't believe there is a chance in the world for Ruth to break his mark of 59 home runs.

The biggest handicap he will suffer will be the fact that his suspension will keep him out of perhaps 25 games.

In those 25 games it is reasonable to suppose that he would make from seven to 10 home runs. Starting with such a handicap in an effort to better a mark of 59 is some task.

In addition, Ruth will suffer from lack of actual competition when he is permitted to enter the game. During the first month of the season the pitching is usually only ordinary.

The battery men, the advance guard of the baseball army that will soon invade the south, have arrived on the scene.

Pitching, as in years gone by, will continue to play a big part in the winning of a pennant. Without good pitching no team gets very far.

Major league club owners are well aware of the fact that in one reason why a special effort is always made to perfect the pitching to the highest possible degree.

Some idea of the value of pitching can be gleaned from the fact that two major league clubs who are making 40 men south each have 19 pitchers in the collection.

While the ratio is not that great with most of the teams, yet a perusal of the lineups of the various clubs shows that about one-third of the players taken south in the spring are pitchers.

The pitching problem is the hardest task a manager faces each spring. At least a half dozen major league leaders would reach much easier if they felt their pitching staff would be able to carry the burden.

Lack of constant pitching was a severe blow to the St. Louis Cardinals last year. During the first month of the race the Cardinals had only two pitchers capable of going the route. Riskey's team had trouble winning a ball game. That bad start was fatal to the Cardinals' pennant chances.

The pitching problem again confronted Ed Graham of Chicago. He has two great stars in Faber and Kerr, but those two men cannot do year. That was proved last year.

Lack of consistent pitching kept the Cleveland team from repeating in

Bill Evans says

However, Ruth's eye would be much better facing such pitching than merely taking his turn in batting practice, where the pitching is usually made to order.

When Ruth gets into the game the American league pitchers will have the edge on him. They will be benefited by five weeks of actual play while Ruth will be off form due to his inactivity. In all probability it will be around June 1 before Ruth hits his stride.

Personally, I doubt if Ruth is ever able to top his record of 59, although I know the big fellow feels positive that he will. Ruth really was disappointed because he didn't get 65 last year.

Babe crossed me up last year by getting 59. I rather looked for his mark of 54 to stand for some time. Perhaps he will upset the dope again before he retires, but I hardly look for such a happening in 1922.

Small Colleges Given Blame for All "Pro" Trouble

BY GLEN THISTLEWAITE
Football Coach, Northwestern University

Overeagerness on the part of smaller institutions to make a showing in the athletic world has proved to be a disturbing element in college and scholastic circles.

Crack baseball or football teams cause a college to be much advertised, through the medium of the press. This is a much desired asset to the smaller institutions.

In an effort to get together such teams some of the smaller colleges have given tuition, room and board free to star scholastic athletes. In some cases the boys have been compensated, usually however by having them work a few hours at some job.

The bigger colleges, with established reputations, never recruit athletes in such a manner. Sometimes the alumni of a college pull such a stunt, but surely the college should not be blamed for such an act.

If a certain high school team boasts a star athlete it is only natural for college managers to try to tempt that player to enter his college when he graduates from high school. That is loyalty. Sometimes the alumni of certain colleges make it possible for a star athlete to be financially rewarded. That practice is, of course, questionable.

The big evil is summer baseball. Permitting the athletes to take pay for playing ball when not in college would remove that evil.

Professional football is not nearly so serious a menace as baseball. No athlete during the school year should be allowed to play with an outside team. During that period they should be placed on the honor.

Church interests in New Jersey do not intend to be outfigured by the sporting element, and accordingly they have organized to fight the effort now being made to have the limit of rounds in a boxing match raised to 15, with permission to render summary. Rev. L. J. Brace, of the Summit Baptist church of Jersey City, is chairman of the church committee directing the attack. The Rev. Brace declares the church interests of the "Skeeter State" will fight the issue to a finish, and if necessary will take a delegation of several thousand strong to Trenton to convince the lawmakers that the decent people of New Jersey are not in favor of the amendment to the Hurley law. The Rev. Brace and his followers have already made the charge that the Dempsey-Carpenter fight was a frame-up.

Dr. J. B. Stratton, of Calvary Baptist church in New York, is also aiding the reform forces in their fight against boxing. The ministers declare they do not intend to let the amendment to the state to promote fights that do not state in the union would tolerate. The fight promises to be one of the warmest ever held in the New Jersey legislature.

PENN. DEVELOPING AMATEUR RING MEN

The University of Pennsylvania athletic officials are working on their elaborate plan for the conduct and elevation of the boxing game, says an announcement made by Dr. R. H. Tait McKenzie, who has just received requests to go "lightly" in boxing because of the danger of making it easy for the boys to turn professional, but evidently the officials do not consider that danger imminent. Boys in all classes will be coached by Penn coaches, and matches sought with other schools where the game is fostered. The officials state that they have decided, however, to insist wherever possible that the referee in collegiate matches take his place outside of the ring.
